Response to Request for Reconsideration

1. This is in response to a request for reconsideration file February 8<sup>Th</sup>, 2005. Claims 8-33 are being reconsidered in this action.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

2. 35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

3. Claims 8-33 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed invention is directed to non-statutory subject matter.

The basis of this rejection is set forth in a two prong test of:

- (1) whether the invention is within the technological arts; and
- (2) whether the invention produces a useful, concrete and tangible result.

For a claimed to be statutory, the claimed invention must be within the technological arts. Mere ideas in the abstract (i.e., abstract idea law of nature, natural phenomena) that do not apply, involve, use, or advance the technological arts fail to promote the “progress of science and the useful arts” and therefore are found to be non-statutory subject matter. For a method claim to pass the muster, the recited method must somehow apply, involve, use, or advance the technological arts.

In the present case the inventive concept in claims 8, 13, 15 and 31 only recites an abstract idea. The recited steps do not apply, involve, use or advance the technological arts since all the steps can be performed in the mind of the user or by use of pencil and paper and no specific technology (e.g. computer, processor) is expressly recited in the body of the claims. In re Toma (CCPA 197 USPQ 852 (1978)).

Although the recited method produces a useful, concrete and tangible result, since the claimed invention, as a whole, is not within the technological arts as explained above, claims 8, 13, 15 and 31 seemed to be directed to non-statutory subject matter.

Response to Arguments

4. Applicant's arguments filed February 8th, 2005 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

a. Applicant argues that Examiner rejected claims 8, 13, 15 and 31 under USC 101 as being directed to non-statutory subject matter, specifically as directed to an abstract idea. To qualify as statutory subject matter, the claimed invention as a whole must accomplish a practical statutory application. It must produce a "useful, concrete and tangible result." State Street Bank & Trust Vs. Signature Financial Group, Inc. 149 F. 3d 1368, 1373; 47 USPQ2d 1596, 1601-1602 (Fed. Cir. 1998) MPEP 2106 (I)(A). In a section 101 rejection, Examiner has the burden to establish a prima facie case that the claimed invention as a whole is directed to solely an abstract idea or to manipulation of abstract or does not produce a useful result. Only when the claim is devoid of any limitation to a practical application in the technological arts should the application be rejected under the USC 101. MPEP 2106 (I)(A). Accordingly, Applicant's statement is correct. However, as stated above, although the recited method produces a useful, concrete and tangible result, since the claimed invention, as a whole, are not within the technological arts. It is obvious that the Applicant is aware of the law but is not in compliance with the law, that is claims 8, 13, 15 and 31 deem to be directed to non-statutory subject matter. Therefore, the 35 USC 101 rejection is maintained.

Conclusion

5. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
